Tiffany Heddis (hed·dis) an American actress and comedian

Under the pretext, my root is Eritrean
She went to visit and meet her Dian (መለኮት)
The cruel dictator synonyms with Korean

 The dictator wasted no time in seizing the occasion
As expected, to attract international media attention
So, for the moment he has left his hiding place
With a hat on his head and a mask on his face

 Their relationship speaks for itself
But for the old Tigriyna song it is "The friendship of the mad sheep and the wolf".
The balance is that he earns a lot but she on the contrary
Nothing is new, because to err on the side of justice is his beauty

 She says 'treatment it call Tsh' (1) [correct spelling is Tis/ጢስ (ጤስ)]
Without having enough knowledge of how the smoke pit/ጉብብጢሽ ህንጻ company works
She says 'They put butter in my hair,'
She is really lucky that he did not put her into his prison hell

 ወይዘሮ ቲፍፋኒ ሐድዲስ አብ እቲ ዓድዲ ሀሎ
ቶሎ ገበራ ሐንቲ ሌላ ምስ እቲ ሸሮ
እውን ረአዖ ቅጮጮ እንክ ስንከት ልዕሊ እቲ መቐሎ
እንክ ይሐልቡ እቲ ጸባ ምስ ሐደ ኩርሮ
እንክ ይብርብሩ ቆፎንህቢ ምስ እቲ ትክኪ ናይ ጉድጉዶ
ድሓር በላ 'OMG! Bees need ' Tsh ' too! I'll tell the Americans to come and see this".

 ወይዘሮ ቲፍፋኒ ገሻ ካብ አስመራ ናብ እቲ ዓድዲ ሄላ
ምስ a mobile phone, mobile toilets, mobile electric power, sleeping bag እውን Coca-Cola
ድሓር ወሰዳ 150 messengers (= ልኡኻት ወይ ስድዳድ)
To go and tell the good news to all villagers
Because the city is without journalists and newspapers
ከምዘይ እቲ ናተን ለበዋ ረኽበ ሐንቲ ጽብብቕቲ አቅቀባብላ
ካብ እቲ ከበሳ እውን እታ ቆልላ

 After this event, she went out for a walk
To find a school without chalk
And to see poor farmers work around the clock

 Suddenly, she turned her face to the Mereb River
And she saw an old man carrying firewood on his shoulder
Followed by the long queue of girls who bring water to marry in the future
Nearby, vultures feed the flesh of a fallen soldier
And burnt tanks connected by ant roads and spider webs
To this extraordinary scene, Tiffany said 'Then they put burning wood in ... and you sit ... and sweat.'

 Thus comes an invitation from a beauty of the house that was close to a tree
100-year-old hdmo/vድግ which is bequeathed (left) to Mr. Mehari
That still hopes to see electricity, gas, water pipes and cookery
But Tiffany was quick to say 'Thank you @hadnetkeleta for taking me I feel Great.'

 The next day she had received bad news
Most of the invited villagers were forced to return to their homes

CHAPTER II.

But today's topic only focuses on three words, namely "Heddis", "health" and "tis". We do this according to their realities.

Tiffany Haddish

@TiffanyHaddish

· Dec 29, 2021

I talked with the President today about the Future of the people. The youth have a lot to look forward to. They will know what true wealth is. #Eritrea #ministerofinspiration @Asmara, Eritrea https://instagram.com/p/CYERHIgMOBa/?utm\_medium=twitter

Tiffany Haddish is honored in Eritrea

Despite Tiffany having a stressful journey from the US to Africa, she received a warm welcome from her father's village when she arrived in Eritrea.

The actress and comedian has been given a plaque which reads: "Tiffany Tsehay Hadish, Residence, Geza Keren, Eritrea."

She wrote on Instagram on December 28th: "I am so happy to be welcome by my Grandfather's village so warmly. I Love my People".

Tiffany could also be seen dancing with her Grandfather's village wearing an Eritrean flag in her IG post.

Following the more formal events, Tiffany later went for some spa treatments in Asmara.

She wrote on Instagram that she had butter put in her hair, turmeric and honey on her face, sesame oil all over her body and "butter in her hot box" before getting a vaginal smoking treatment.

Why is Tiffany Haddish visiting Eritrea?

Tiffany Haddish is of Eritrean descent with her father, Tsihay Reda Haddish, being born there.

She now has dual citizenship in both Eritrea and the United States.

Tiffany's father came to the US as a refugee and later met her mother, Leola.

She first visited the African country back in 2018. And now, following a break-up with her boyfriend of a year, Common, in November 2021, she's gone back to Eritrea again.
